An officer on Fulton street, Brooklyn, stopped a man who was shaking his head and fist as he walked along, and asked the cause of his excitement.

"Why, a fellow back there took me for a fool!" was the forcible reply

Umbrellas in England.

How many umbrellas are manufactured in this country annually? There are no official returns giving the number in this country, though in the United States it is calculated that one umbrella is made annually for every six persons. If we apply this proportion to the population of the United Kingdom—now calculated, in round numbers, at 38,000,000—over 6,000,000 umbrellas are made annually. Upward of 2,500 umbrellas were imported by sea into Calcutta in the year 1888-89, and the yearly exports of umbrellas from this country are valued at £351,000. In France, in 1890, umbrellas were manufactured by 160 makers to the value of £280,000; in 1887, £405,000 worth by 308 makers; in 1888 7,500,000 umbrellas, or nearly one for each inhabitant house.—London Tit-Bits.

How Old Spiders Live.

Old spiders, which have neither web nor the materials to make one, often hunt about to find out the webs of other spiders, younger and weaker than themselves, with whom they venture battle. The invader generally succeeds, and the younger spider is driven out to make a new web, and the old spider remains in possession until a stronger spider invades the web and drives it out. When thus dispossessed the spider seldom ventures another attack, but tries to subsist upon the few insects that may fall accidentally into its clutches, and eventually dies of hunger.—London Standard.

It is a mistake to suppose that the knots or warts which are very common on some species of forest trees are due to insects, fungus, or accident, or are in any way unnatural growths. They develop as results neither of the health nor disease of the tree, nor of such conditions as special kinds of soil or situations.

The first crematorium in the United States was erected at Washington, Pa., by Dr. F. J. Le Moine at a cost of $1,000. The first body to be cremated was that of Baron de Palm, Dec. 6, 1876. The time occupied in reducing the body to ashes was two hours and ten minutes.

Macaulay was 48 when he issued the first and second volumes of his "History of England," and the third and fourth did not appear until he was 55. Good as are the essays of his early manhood they pale when compared with the work of his mature years.

A French Rule.

Every householder in the capital of France is called upon to fill out a paper upon which there are questions regarding some of the internal machinery of the menage. The name of every person who has spent the night in the house has to be written out, and another point mentioned is the number of windows of which the house is possessed. It seems that the Elysee, the house of President Carnot, has 114, and the number of domestics employed twenty-six.—New York Evening Sun.

Animal Life at the Surface of the Sea.

The surface of the sea is alive with vast swarms of minute organisms, both plants and animals, and the Challenger investigations have shown conclusively that showers of these keep dropping day and night like a constant rain toward the ooze of the bottom.—Current Literature.

Every heart knoweth its own bitterness. It is one of the extraordinary developments of human nature, that while men can sympathize with each other, condole with each other, each individual suffers his own pangs and distress, and suffers them alone.

The sea urchin has five teeth in five jaws—one in each jaw—all the five immediately surrounding the stomach. The jaws have a peculiar centralized motion, all turning inward and downward, so that they also act as feeders.

Beautiful meteorological photographs of clouds and the aspect of the sky have been taken by reflecting the object in a mirror of black glass placed in front of the object glass of the camera

THURSDAY.....AUGUST 6, 1891

THE G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT.

The grand encampment of the G. A. R., now being held at Detroit, is the silver anniversary of the organization. The attendance is the largest ever known, nearly all the States being represented.

During the year the organization expended $384,400 for the relief of comrades, and in the same period paid to distressed members $153,000.

The Adjutant General's report for the year ending June 30th last shows that there are 45 departments, with 7,400 posts and 398,007 comrades in good standing; the deaths during the year 5,620.

A serious dispute has arisen in the color question. The members from the Southern departments object to colored members of the G. A. R. and want them excluded from the organization. They say that in the South there are a number of colored members who are not thirty years old. They swarm in the posts and give white men no show. Charles F. Fink, Assistant Quartermaster General of the Department of Louisiana and Mississippi, says white men will not associate with the colored members, and if the present convention does not do something to relieve the Southern posts of this growing trouble the white veterans will withdraw.

Colonel James Lewis, (colored) presents the other side of the question. He says there are nine posts, with a membership of over one thousand, in Louisiana and Mississippi, yet they are not recognized by the commander of the department and get no representation in the convention.

What the result of the dispute will be remains to be seen, but it is obvious that members of the G. A. R. now under thirty years of age, could not have performed very valuable services in a war which ended twenty six years ago last April.

THE SILVER DEBATE.

The New York Evening Telegram, in which Senator Stewart has been discussing the silver question with the goldites, says:

"There can be no question but that the great debate upon the silver coinage question now proceeding in the columns of the telegram is the journalist feature of the year. It has been thus far carried on by some of the most influential financiers of the country.

"Both extremes, and many intermediate points and aspects of the question, have been ably championed. So great an interest has this discussion awakened among thoughtful men of affairs, that many valuable contributions are now constantly in hand awaiting their turn for publication.

"And let none of our readers turn away from this feature of the Telegram under the impression that any discussion of a profound financial question must be of necessity fatiguing or dull. The contrary has proved to be the case. Our contributors, who have proved to be bright, practical men, very much in earnest, while observing all the rules of honorable and courteous debate, have managed to fill their papers with bright points and information entertainingly imparted.

"There could not be any more desirable summer reading than the Telegram's silver symposium affords. That is why it has claimed readers, attention and applause in all quarters of the United States."

THE KENTUCKY ELECTION

The election in Kentucky resulted in the choice of the whole Democratic State ticket by majorities ranging from 30,000 to 40,000. A. T. Wood, the Republican nominee for Governor, was neither aggressive nor popular and he was overwhelmingly defeated by John Young Brown. The new Constitution was adopted by a large majority, the returns indicating that it will reach 100,000. The People's party polled about 20,000 votes. The Alliance confined itself mostly to members of the Legislature, and many of the Democrats elected are farmers.

The latest returns, which are by no means complete, indicate a Democratic majority of at least forty.

Kentucky was the first in the field this year with an unequivocal free coinage resolution and the result shows that the State is decidedly in favor of that measure.

The Philadelphia Record thinks that city has a bright future notwithstanding the crookedness developed in the city government. It says every hundred years the Atlantic Ocean pushes back the coast line, where no rock bluffs oppose its march, about one-third of a mile. At this rate of advance 2,000 years hence Philadelphia will be on the edge of the sea and New York in the soup.

The British Parliament was prorogued yesterday by Queen Victoria.

A Great Snake Dance in Arizona.

WINSLOW, A. T., August 5.—A party of Mosqui Indians arrived from the reservation sixty miles north of Winslow, the nearest railroad station, to-day. Through Dr. J. Sullivan of this place, a well-informed interpreter, the following is learned about the Snake dance beginning to-day and continuing sixteen days, winding up August 21st with a grand snake dance, which only occurs once every two years. It is said this is the only known tribe that indulge. Steps are being taken to discontinue it, and this may be the last snake dance ever witnessed anywhere. Chief Capelin of the Snake Order to-day went into the estuas, or underground lodges to prepare medicines for the ceremonies of the tuba likidra or snake dance. Three hundred, out of twenty-five hundred Mosquies, belong to a Snake Order similar to the leading orders among the whites. The Snake degree includes warriors, hunters and dancers, while the Antelope degree is composed of houseguards and singing men. To-day all who take part in the coming ceremonies went into the Estuas and were there consecrated. The renounced are not allowed to speak to any but members until the dance on the 21st. The eighth day members begin to capture, baptize and name each reptile and sleep with them in the Estuas. At five o'clock the evening of the 16th day, or August 21st, all except members climb on houses and the Antelope degree members appear gaudily decorated and with music and singing. Then the snake men join at a given signal and the snake men, numbering fifty to one hundred, each gets a vicious reptile, or several of them, in his mouth. The dance then takes place on the ground and they secure a fresh snake. About 400 snakes are expected. After the dance the snakes are piled into the holy rock, baptized and carried to the valley and liberated. Rattlers, garters, spotted bull and others are used. Many points of historical interest are at the snake dance villages. Coronado's armada conquered the Indians and established Catholic missions. Later the priests were all thrown over the rocks by the Indians and murdered. The mission is now a pile of ruins.

It is reported that Major Donaldson, of Gallup, who took the Government Indian Census, says that this is the last snake dance the Government will permit. He takes a photographic outfit to the dance. It is also reported that the Government is sending a corps of photographers.

THE G. A. R. Encampment.

Special to the Journal.

DETROIT, August 5.—The afternoon session was devoted almost entirely to a discussion regarding the selection of the place of holding the next encampment. After a long and heated debate the matter was settled on the first ballot by Washington securing a majority of 27 votes over Lincoln. Resolutions were unanimously adopted requesting Congress to pass a law authorizing the Inter-state Commerce Commission to give reduced rates to all soldiers and sailors of the war of '61-'65 attending National Encampments. A resolution was unanimously adopted limiting the length of the parade at all future encampments to two miles.

The location of the next encampment having been settled, the interest of the encampment is now chiefly centered in the election of a Commander-in-Chief. Captain John Palmer of New York, A. G. Weissert of Wisconsin and Col. W. R. Smedberg of California are the leading candidates, and it is safe to say one of these will be elected.

To-morrow's battle promises to be a very interesting three-cornered struggle with the chances somewhat in favor of Palmer since he is to receive the united support of the New York delegation.

The People's Party in Ohio.

Special to the Journal.

SPRINGFIELD, August 5.—The People's Party State Convention was called to order this afternoon by H. F. Barnes of Timon, Chairman of the State Committee. There were about four hundred delegates present. After a prayer, the Chair read a letter from George F. Gaither, Chairman of the Alabama State Committee, promising to carry that State in 1892. Another from Senator Peffer advising the adoption of the Cincinnati resolutions and plank advocating honest money was greeted with cheers. The Chair introduced as temporary Chairman, Hugh Cavanaugh, who said in part: "Too long have the farmers observed the injunction, you till the soil, we'll manage public affairs. They are tired of it, and that is the reason of the meeting here to-day." He treated finance, tariff and other questions in the manner set forth in the Cincinnati resolutions.

A Fatal Railroad Accident.

Special to the Journal.

CLEVELAND, Md., August 5.—An engine on the West Virginia Central road was derailed about 60 miles from here. There were seventeen men and two women on the engine, which was taking them to work at a lumber camp. The accident was caused by a piece of timber on the track. All on the engine were more or less injured. The first person extricated was Alice Robinson. The escaping steam had cooked the flesh on her face, arms and hands in a horrible manner, and her injuries are considered fatal. John McKenzie, who lives at Frazerburg, was caught under the engine and scalded so badly he died last evening. The others, who are seriously, though not fatally injured, are Robert Robinson, engineer; Frank Crover, fireman; Lewis Lyman, John Rickey and Jennie Duref.

A Young Girl Kicked to Death.

Special to the Journal.

FRESNO, August 5.—At Squaw Valley yesterday afternoon while Miss Annie Keane, fourteen years old, was riding to the postoffice her horse was frightened by a blast fired at the side of the road and shied, throwing the girl. Her foot caught in the stirrup and held her fast, while the frightened animal began to kick furiously. Before any help could be given the girl was dead and fearfully mangled.

Fly fishing is reported as being first class at Camp 24, sixteen miles above Reno. Quite a number of the local disciples of Isaac Walton are in the habit of spending Sunday enjoying the sport, and all report good catches.

As the close season for ducks and other game is nearing a close, it would be a good idea for our local sportsmen to combine and employ some one to stay on the meadows and report any one found killing game before the 1st of September.

A coil-oil lamp in the Methodist Church at Prescott, A. T., upset while the flame was being regulated and set fire to the building. Part of the oil fell on a man named Sharp, who was badly burned. The building was almost entirely destroyed.

An irrigation convention is to be held at Salt Lake City September 15th. One delegate and one alternate will be allowed from each agricultural society, College Chamber of Commerce and Board of Trade in all the States west of the Missouri river. An effort is being made to get half-free to the convention on all roads west of Omaha.

The Pioche Record learns that grasshoppers have almost entirely devastated the lower end of Lincoln county. On the Harris and Crosby ranches on the Muddy they have destroyed everything. The hoppers appear to be traveling northward.

Messrs. Baker, Wines & Dorsey, who defended Thomas H. Horn, indicted for the faro bank robbery, have withdrawn from the case. Horn is out on bail, the jury which tried him having disagreed. He will probably be tried again in September.

The Enterprise says: "Professor C. S. Young, who has been spending a day or two on the Comstock, left yesterday for Mason Valley. Mr. Young is doing an immense amount of good on the coast in the way of contracting to sell lands to actual settlers, and if he can get a fair proposition in Mason Valley he will be the means of locating many families there."

A car load of race horses passed through Reno yesterday from Carson to take part in the races at Willows, Red Bluff, Chico and Woodland. H. Wills had charge of Evan Williams' stable, consisting of Our Dick, Our Jack and Dew Drop, and Frank Dodd had charge of John P. Sweeney's horses Gibber and Alpheus. After taking in the Northern California circuit they will return to Reno in time for the State Fair.

Lightning struck the frame dwelling of John Anderson at Helena, Montana, tore the chimney into fragments, and, dividing into two currents, one ran down each side of the house, melting the nails in the walls and allowing the boards to drop off in several places. One part of the bolt went through a screen door, melting all the wire work, and striking a dog lying on the porch at the feet of Mrs. Anderson, killed it instantly, but Mrs. Anderson was not affected in the least.

LAKE TAHOE.

Why a Dead Body Never Rises to the Surface in Its Waters.

In answer to the query "why the dead body of a fish or human never rises in Lake Tahoe?" Charles A. Norcross of Reno presents the following solution in the Assembly Daily Tourist:

"If you place within a glass jar filled with water and having a stopper that may be compressed, any small body whose specific gravity is a very little greater than that of water, the body may be raised or depressed at pleasure simply by applying more or less pressure to the stopper. When sufficient pressure is applied, the body rises; when the pressure is removed, the body sinks. The pressure increases the specific gravity of the water until it is greater than that of the body.

"If you place a jar of water under the receiver of an air pump and exhaust a portion of the air, immediately little bubbles will form through the water, and, rising to the surface, break. These bubbles are filled with air, from which it is concluded that the amount of air in water depends upon the pressure of the superincumbent atmosphere. In fact, a direct ratio exists between the two.

"The specific gravity of the average dead human body is about 1.032. Consequently even at sea level where the atmospheric pressure is 2100 pounds to the square foot, a body would never rise unless through some exterior cause tending to lower its specific gravity. This cause is found in the process of decay. The gaseous elements of the tissues are liberated faster than they can escape. The phenomenon of 'floating' takes place. The body has a larger displacement without any gain in weight. Its specific gravity is, therefore, lowered and it rises. But why does a body decay in water? On account of the air, i. e. free oxygen that is in the water. If there were none, the submerged animal or vegetable tissues would be preserved indefinitely. Furthermore it has been demonstrated that, other conditions being the same, the rapidity with which dissolution takes place varies as the quantity and purity of the oxygen enveloping it.

"The pressure of the atmosphere upon each square foot of the surface of Lake Tahoe is approximately 1600 pounds, or 500 pounds less than the corresponding pressure at sea level. Hence the specific gravity of the water is somewhat less. But it might be thought that as the pressure of the atmosphere on the human body is in the same measure less—something like 3.17 tons—the body has expanded so that its specific gravity is lowered likewise. This is not true, as the tissues of the body are capable of resisting expansion to a much greater extent. At a height of three miles the pressure of the atmosphere on the human body is 7.5 tons less than at sea level, yet the expansion of the bodily tissues is imperceptible, save only to the senses.

The fact follows that a body would weigh more in Lake Tahoe than in the sea; in other words it would sink more rapidly, and would require a greater energy to bring it to the surface.

"We have said that the amount of air, i. e. free oxygen, permeating water bears a direct ratio to the pressure of the atmosphere. Hence the water of Lake Tahoe would contain but .78 as much free oxygen as water at sea level. In other words, other conditions being the same, the process of dissolution would only take place .78 as fast. But other conditions are not the same. The temperature of Lake Tahoe is many degrees colder than as a rule water is at sea level, and dissolution is still further retarded. In fact, the process of decay is sufficiently retarded to allow the liberated gases of the tissue time to escape, so that 'floating' never occurs sufficiently to bring the body to the surface."

FREDERICK DOUGLASS.

The Negro Who Advised President Lincoln to Issue the Emancipation Proclamation.

To-day is the anniversary of the emancipation of all slaves in the United States, and it is to be celebrated in Rochester, N. Y., and in other places in a manner worthy of the occasion. The project was initiated by the Douglass League. It was in Rochester that Frederick Douglass started a paper called at first "The North Star," afterward "Fred Douglass' paper." Frederick Douglass was born in Tuckahoe, near Easton, Md., in 1817. His mother was a negro—his father a white man. A slave at the age of ten, he was sent to Baltimore to live with the relatives of his master. He taught himself to read and write in secret. He was employed in a shipyard and fled from Baltimore from slavery in 1838. He came to New York; then he went to New Bedford, Mass., where he married. He labored on wharves and in workshops until
